It's not just for believers anymore.

Thinkers Welcome

In a world of many religions, keen philosophers and inspiring poets why read only one book? It's like having only one way of thinking.

Unitarian Universalists draw inspiration from the great religions of the world; Judaism, Buddhism, Christianity, Taoism, Hinduism and Islam.

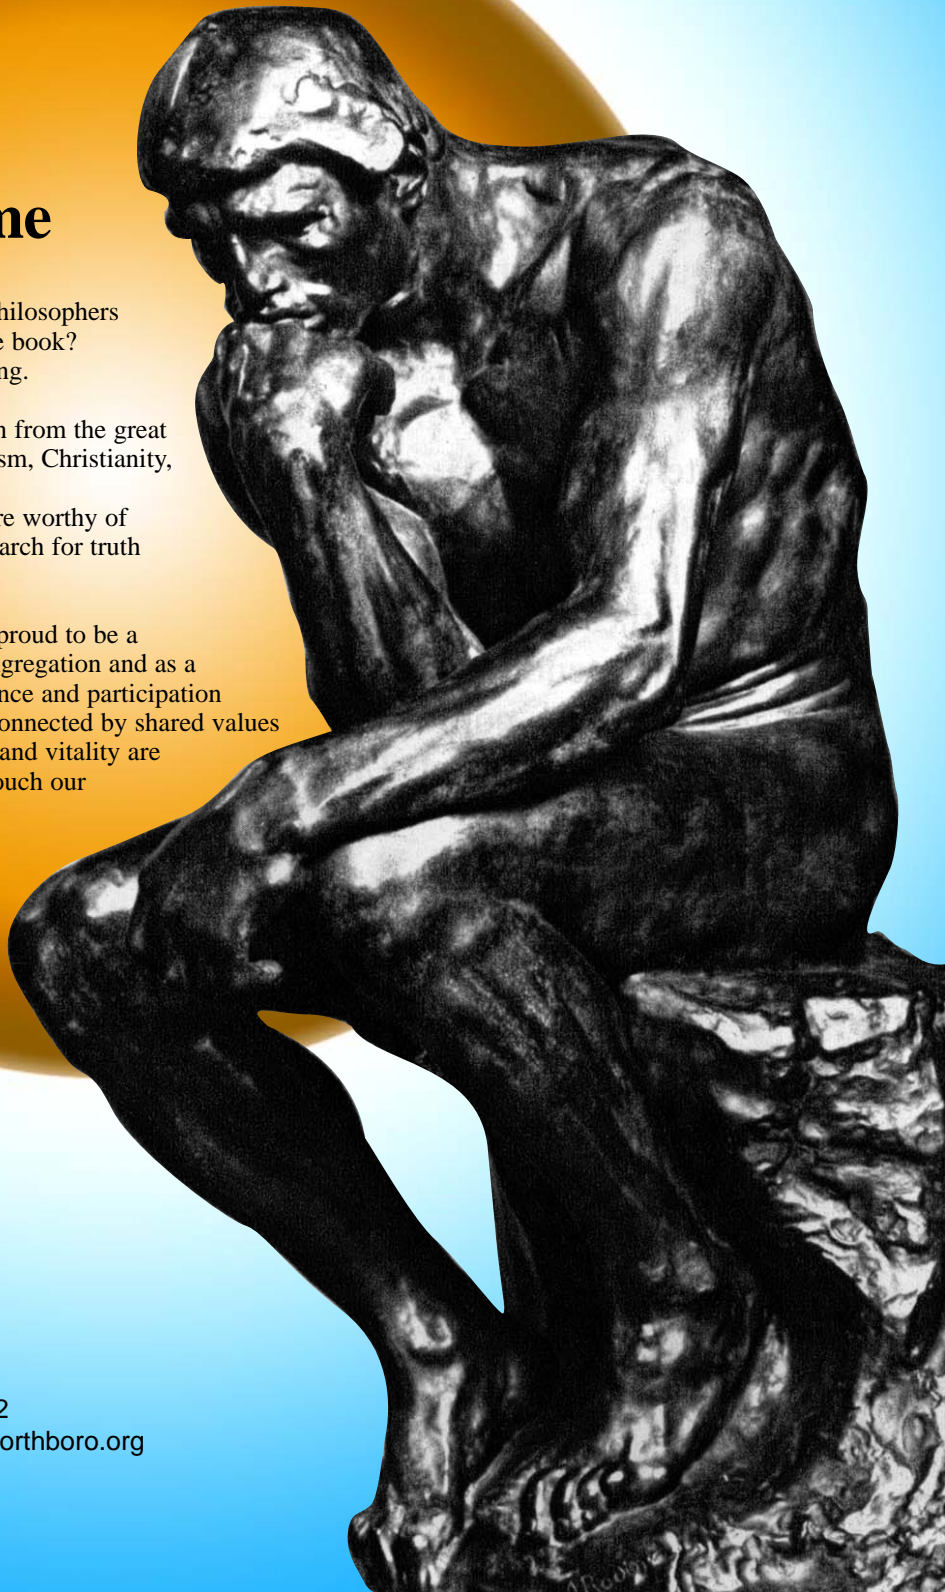

We believe many religious traditions are worthy of exploration as part of the individual search for truth and meaning.

The First Parish of Northborough is proud to be a Welcoming Congregation. As a Congregation and as a Community we welcome the presence and participation of every individual. We are interconnected by shared values and mutual respect—our warmth and vitality are infectious as we reach out to touch our neighbors and the world.

Welcome to the First Parish Unitarian Universalist Church of Northborough. We invite you to visit us, join in our Sunday morning services and participate in our spiritual community.

Sunday Services at First Parish provide a blend of music and spoken word for young and old alike. Our minister is committed to speaking on subjects relevant to everyday living. A significant tradition at First Parish is the occasional "Community Dialogue," providing an opportunity for an open exchange of ideas and thoughts during the service. Music is an important part of our worship. Our congregational singing, adult and youth choirs and musicians infuse the celebrations with the excitement and depth of classical, jazz and popular music.

What We Believe

Unitarian Universalists like Henry David Thoreau, Susan B. Anthony, and Albert Schweitzer believe in the worth of every person and the ability of everyone to form her or his own religious beliefs, as we do.

Our Mission

To inspire individuals to engage one another in promoting spiritual growth and social responsibility.

We appreciate your interest and hope you choose to take part in our community.

Our activities include: movie night, bowling, dances, auctions and Tarot card reading. In discussion groups we explore poetry, spirituality and social issues. There are special activities celebrating seasonal and holiday events.
